The following is a revision of the section on Foreign Dissemination:

II. DISSEMINATION TO FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS.

The policy and procedures for the release of intelligence to foreign governments is established by the Presidential Directive of 23 September 1958, "Basic Policy Governing the Release of Classified Defense Information to Foreign Governments" as revised 23 April 1960.

However, an originating agency may, prior to the general distribution of an intelligence document, determine whether the intelligence document or the information contained therein is releasable to foreign governments. The originating agency may, by the use of appropriate markings, signify that foreign release is not permitted or that advance consent for release is granted.
